Together we can end the cycle of violence

Interview Follow-Up Information

Dear Research Participant,

Thank you so much for sharing your time and contributing to this research. The purpose of this study is to gather the critical voices of people who have experienced homicide within their family and identify ways to better support future families with similar experiences.

It is possible that this interview brings up difficult memories and feelings associated with the murder of your family member.

- If you are interested in having a free check-in conversation to follow up on this interview with a trained therapist or member of the IFH team, either by phone or in person, please contact IFH Coordinator Sam Margolius at (484) 341-0605 or via email at smargolius@avpphila.org.
- You and your family members are also eligible for free, long-term therapy services. If you are interested in being connected to a therapist, please call AVP's counseling center office at (215) 567-6776.
- If at any time you feel that you are in crisis and need immediate support, please call Philadelphia's 24/7 crisis line at (215) 685-6440.

Attached to this letter is a list of local agencies for survivors of crime in Philadelphia, including contact information and brief descriptions of what they do.

If you would like an update on the research progress or if you have any further questions, concerns, or comments about this research, please contact IFH Director Kendra Van de Water at (267) 469-3002 or via email at kvandewater@avpphila.org.

With sincere gratitude and appreciation,

The IFH Research Team
